

The genocidal nature of the TPLF and the journey towards its violent implosion. By Getahun Bekele

Known as the carbon copy of the Jacobins club from the era of the bloody French revolution, or ridiculed as the cappuccino elite, TPLF, the current ruling party in Ethiopia is an ethnocentric association of emerging Tigre bourgeoisie and demonic war lords who takes pleasure in death and distraction, with genocidal past, of course.

The TPLF derived its totalitarian ideologies from both communism and facism. The genocidal third world democracy it now wags in Ethiopia with increasing belligerence is nothing but the conglomeration of those two ideologies.

The TPLF is one of the most undemocratic and trigger happy organizations in Africa, just like Joseph Khony's LRA, Alshabab of Somalia or Boko Haram of Nigeria. It is a terrorist establishment in the extreme.

It has blackened the face of Ethiopia's post Marxism history with the blood of thousands of non-Tigres.

The party's political home is the northern arid province of Tigraye. There, behind the iron curtains, it reign supreme, running the captured, subdued and colonized Ethiopia from its headquarters in Mekele.

Its genocidal nature could be traced back to the late 60s and early 70s when its political wing, MLLT (Marxist Leninist League Tigraye) openly declared war on Ethiopia, calling her a multinational empire, which should be first defeated and then disintegrated.

In mid 70s, one of the most romantic names in the modern political history of Ethiopia, EPRP (Ethiopian people Revolutionary party) was the first to fall victim to Tigre genocide

Unsympathetic MLLT cadres and TPLF gunmen, in an attempt to dislodge EPRP fighters out of the fortress of mount Assimba, massacred hundreds.

Captured EPRP members, mostly university and high school students, some in their teens, were forced to roll naked on thorny Cactus tree branches until their flesh ripped open before being shot in cold blood by the likes of Bisrat Amare, Meles Zenawi, Seyoum Mesfin and Abaye Tsehaye.

Nevertheless, Zenawi, to this day persists in the most barefaced of lies about the genocidal massacre. He describes the dead as counter revolutionaries while other TPLF warlords such as Gebru ASrat contradict him by saying EPRP members were persecuted and made to suffer barbaric cruelty because they trespassed in to the ethnically homogenous Tigraye republic.

At the time, inspite of the fury with which the Tigres worked the extermination around mount Assimba on non-Tigre Ethiopians, only few thought the back wood idea of creating a Tigraye republic, an African utopia, would be carried forward to this day.

Zenawi borrowed the formula of a Tigre utopia from his childhood hero, the Godforsaken Albanian dictator, Enver Hoxha, who killed more than 700,000 of his subjects, all real or imagined opposition to his savagery, atheist rule.

Zenawi's private fife, the Tigraye enclave has been in existence since the creation of the TPLF, currently emerging as a viable banana republic from virtually nothing...

Constructed and modernized under the guise of "redressing the injustice of the past."

Legesse Zenawi

In the past 21 years, all Tigres and their blood trusty cadres worked unanimously towards the realization of an independent, prosperous Tigraye, home to the “Master race” of east Africa.

They fought the enemy who stood in their way with great boldness and with no fear of the consequences of committing war crimes, genocide, and crimes against humanity: and that enemy was identified as Ethiopianism and the so-called majoritarian Amharic husbandry of Ethiopia.

The Tigres also targeted the non-Amharic intelligentsia, the clergy of the Ethiopian Orthodox Church, the patriotic Sheikdom, and ofcourse any independent thinker who sought compromise or non-violent solutions to end Tigre brutality and the systematic internal colonization of Ethiopia.

TPLF leaders currently believe that they are in possession of all necessary weapons to end Ethiopianism. They erroneously interpret the silence of the masses as defeat. Zenawi often gloats that forces of unity in Ethiopia are significantly weakened and their capacity to make war has ^{been} taken away from them.

He made death a virtue to the youth of the republic of Tigraye and coerced all Tigres into spying for the TPLF. Those who died while on duty in Ethiopia to protect the interest of Tigraye are lauded as martyrs by Zenawi and often accorded state funerals or massive pays out for killing non Tigre Ethiopians.

Nonetheless, the anti-TPLF and anti-Tigre tensions have reached at boiling point in Ethiopia since all non-catastrophic solutions remained undesirable by the ruling elite.

Zenawi is now a very frustrated man.

Ethiopianism and patriotism did not collapse or disappeared under the weight of tragedy and waves of repression, or the delivery of violent shocks like the 2005 genocidal massacre.

Instead, patriotism, the mortal enemy of Zenawi is growing, and it is about to deliver a revolutionary apocalypse that will free Ethiopia from bondage of modern time slavery.

Under the current political climate, a negotiated peace with the Tigres is far less likely.

A massive uprising will soon usher in a new era after the violent implosion of the TPLF, which is fast approaching.
